DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-14, 36-42, drawn to a lockout process based on password entry, classified in class 713, subclass 183.
 - II. Claims 15-35, drawn to allocation of passwords with expirations, classified in class 713, subclass 184.

2. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct if they do not overlap in scope and are not obvious variants, and if it is shown that at least one subcombination is separately usable. In the instant case, subcombination II has separate utility such as a password allocator. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

3. The examiner has required restriction between subcombinations usable together. Where applicant elects a subcombination and claims thereto are subsequently found allowable, any claim(s) depending from or otherwise requiring all the limitations of the allowable subcombination will be examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. See MPEP § 821.04(a). Applicant is advised that if any claim presented in a continuation or divisional application is anticipated by, or includes all the limitations of, a claim that is allowable in the present application, such claim may be subject to provisional statutory and/or nonstatutory double patenting rejections over the claims of the instant application.

4. Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious burden on the examiner if restriction is not required because the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art in view of their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

5. Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious burden on the examiner if restriction is not required because the inventions require a different field of search (see MPEP § 808.02), restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

6. Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious burden on the examiner if restriction is not required because the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art due to their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

7. During a telephone conversation with Fredrick W. Gibb on 15 January 2008 a provisional election was made without traverse to prosecute the invention of Group I, claim 1-14, 36-42. Affirmation of this election must be made by applicant in replying to this Office action. Claims 15-35 withdrawn from further consideration by the examiner, 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a non-elected invention.

8. An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

Examiner's Amendment

9. Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview Fredrick W. Gibb on 15 January 2008.

The application has been amended as follows:

Cancel claims 15-35.

Allowable Subject Matter

10. Claims 1-14, 36-42 are allowed.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The claims are drawn to providing password based access to a resource wherein a password is provided and compared to a stored password in order to enable access to the requested resource. If the passwords match, then the requested access is provided. If the passwords do no match, a counter is variable incremented based on the degree of similarity between the two passwords. Once the counter reaches a predetermined value, access to the requested resource is locked out.

11. The closest prior art (Garrett, U.S. Patent No. 6,397,337) discloses password based access to a resource (Col. 7, lines 1-22) wherein a password is provided and compared to a stored password in order to enable access to the requested resource (Col. 7, lines 22-29), which meets the limitation of receiving a presented password from an entity desiring access to said item, comparing said presented password with a stored password, authorizing access if said presented password exactly matches said stored password. If the passwords do not match, access is denied and a lockout counter is incremented (Col. 7, lines 45-67), which meets the limitation denying access if said presented password fails to exactly match said stored password, incrementing a lockout count if said presented password fails to exactly match said stored password. If the counter reaches a predetermined value, access to the resource is locked out (Col. 7, lines 57-64), which meets the limitation of locking out access to said item if said lockout count exceeds a predetermined value.

12. Garrett does not disclose or make obvious variable incrementing the counter based upon the degree of similarity between the two passwords.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

Conclusion

13. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
